A NOTE FROM O'REILLY CEO, GREG JOHNSON:

O'Reilly Auto Parts Well-Being Commitment to our Professional Customer and Team Members

A Notice to our Professional Customers:

As communities continue to feel the impact of the coronavirus (COVID-19), I want to share with you the steps we're taking to help protect the health and safety of our customers and our O'Reilly team members, which is always our top priority.

We're closely monitoring local and national reports on the evolving impact of COVID-19 and, based on guidance from the Centers for Disease Control (CDC), the World Health Organization and applicable public health agencies, we've developed plans and established a task force that will allow us to respond timely and appropriately.

We have increased our housekeeping and sanitization efforts in our stores, distribution centers, and corporate office. We are frequently disinfecting often-touched surfaces such as door handles, countertops, keypads, restroom

KEEPING ESSENTIAL PEOPLE MOVING

As communities continue to be impacted by the coronavirus (COVID-19), O'Reilly Auto Parts wants to share with you some of the steps we are taking to protect the health and safety of our customers and our O'Reilly team members, which is always our top priority. O'Reilly Auto Parts is an essential supplier to the communities we serve, as a key resource provider ensuring consistent and effective transportation for a wide range of industries, health care providers, emergency personnel, and consumers engaged in critical tasks, as well as meeting the automotive needs of everyday customers as they use their vehicles to meet basic needs, such as trips to the pharmacy or grocery store.

The Department of Homeland Security has designated auto repair facilities and auto parts suppliers as critical infrastructure industries, which serves as a guideline for local and state governments
